Pershing and Foch Are Cheered as They Appear at Ameri- can Legion Meet

FUTURE HOPE IN PARLEY

Foch Says His Biggest Honor Was to Lead Americans to Victory

By H. E. Caylor
By United Press Leased Wire
Kansas City, Mo.—"Hosts of democracy" welcomed their chiefs
Tuesday.

An ovation was let loose by 18,000
American legionnaires when the men
that led them in France were guests
at the legion convention.

Marshal Foch, General Pershing,
General Jacques and General Diaz occupied seats in Convention hall when the morning session opened.

The legion greeted Pershing's references to the disarmament conference and aid for disabled service men and unemployment noisily.

He brought his speech to a dramatic close by calling upon the legion to pause a moment in silent prayer for the dead in France.

Marshal Foch followed Pershing
speaking in French.

A resolution criticizing and condemning President Harding for his attitude toward ex-service men, as reflected in congressional action, was printed and circulated on the floor of the convention. The proposed resolution particularly calls attention to what is termed a lack of sympathy
for former soldiers in the world war.

The resolution was circulated by the resolutions committee.

Allied leaders of the world war
Tuesday reviewed the "fighting spirit of America."

Headed by medal men in the places
of honor, sixty thousand former service men and women members of the American legion formed the mammoth parade which Marshal Foch, Admiral Beatty, Baron Jacques, General Diaz
and General Pershing witnessed.

Wounded Men Ride

Disabled veterans were carried in motor cars directly behind the medal
men. Delegates and visitors from 48 states and Alaska, Mexico and Hawaii were in the parade. Most of the men were in uniform of service. Eighty-five bands and drum and bugle corps enlivened
the procession.

"Hope of the future lies in the coming disarmament conference at Washington," General Pershing told
the convention in officially welcoming Marshal Foch and other inter-allied heroes.

The American commander-in-chief touched on the arms limitation and Pacific conference, unemployment among ex-service men and other such problems more freely than any other
of the military leaders.

Time Ripe for Meet

"The coming conference in Washington should be as important as any ever held," Pershing asserted after reviewing the indebtedness and other burdens brought on by the war. "The time seems propitious for the nations
to meet and frankly discuss questions
of mutual interest that might later affect friendly relations."

"Thinking people everywhere, I believe, are confident that an understanding can be reached that will lessen the chances of war in the future, and strengthen in their wish for such a happy culmination are those who have fought and those who have suffered."

Dwelling on the unemployment
problem, General Pershing declared
every American legion post should be an agency through which ex-service men out of employment can be placed.

Marshal Foch, "civilization's first soldier," paid tribute to the American army of 1918 which he characterized as
"a real grand army, beginning with its commander."

Legionnaires cheered as Foch declared "the greatest honor of my life
will be to have guided along the road
to victory the American army of 1918."

Paid Americans Tribute

Foch's speech was mostly a review
and tribute to America in the war, declaring to the ex-service men "you may well be proud." He recounted the quickness in which America placed 3,500,000 men in the field, the rapidity with which men were trained and the accomplishments of the country as a whole.

The French chief paid special tribute to the Second and Third army divisions at the Marne, and the five divisions which participated in the Franco-British counter offensive between the Aisne and the Marne. Work of the First American army at St.
Mihiel, the men who fought at the Argonne and reconquered the Meuse
were also lauded.

"More than 75,000 of your brothers
are buried in France," the marshal said. "May they rest in peace. Your French brothers in arms will watch over them. Glory to you who survive them. You may well be proud of your exploits."

Following his speech Foch was presented with the emblem of the American legion.

Soldiers Hung Without Trial, Watson Charges; Senate To Investigate

By Fraser Edwards
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—The senate Tuesday adopted a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee of five senators to hear the charges by Senator Watson, Georgia, that American soldiers in France were treated inhumanly and hanged without court martial.

Watson declared he was ready to go before any committee and prove his charges. He asserted that he had seen pictures of a scaffold on which American soldiers were alleged to have been hung.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, interrupted Watson to say that he had seen the picture to which the Georgia senator referred.

"Two ex-service men have confirmed that picture to me in confidence," Borah said.

Borah took the picture out of his pocket and passed it around to the senators.

The picture showed several soldiers
hanging from a scaffold.

Watson's charges which Wads-
worth challenged, follow:

"How many senators know that private soldiers were shot by officers
because of some complaint against officers in silence; and that they had gallows upon which men were hanged, day after day, without court martial or any other form of trial? I have photographs of one of these gallows upon which 21 white boys had already been executed at sunrise when the photograph was taken and there were others waiting in the camp lay to be hanged, morning after morning."

"Such statements as those made by a senator cannot be put lightly aside
and excused on the ground of excitability in debate," said Wadsworth.

Bristling with wrath, the Georgia senator leaped to his feet and shaking his fist at Wadsworth declared that
"this language would not go on the floor of the senate."

"I am not in the habit of making statements that I cannot prove," said Watson. "I can prove every word
that I said."

"I have a picture of the gallows on which white soldiers were hanged in violation of law. I can produce witnesses to prove it if the senator from New York will guarantee immunity
to the man who testifies."

"Wizard" Answers First Instalment Of Questions

Since the first announcement was made that Richards, "the wizard,"
would answer questions through the columns of the Post-Crescent, scores of questions have been pouring in for the great mystic to answer, and we publish today the first instalment
of answers to a number of the questions which have been asked.

Miners Plan Strike Against Dues Edict

Leaders Not To Sanction Strike Move

Effort Will Be Made to Set Aside Judge Anderson's Injunction Before Formal Protest Is In- dicated in Nationwide Tieup.

By United Press Leased Wire
Indianapolis, Ind.—There will be no authorized nationwide coal strike in protest against the check-off injunction granted by Federal Judge
A. B. Anderson, it was learned here
Tuesday.

There may be some walkouts, but they will not spread throughout the country, nor will they be ordered from the international headquarters
of the United Mine Workers of America here.

Reports have reached miners headquarters of a partial tieup of the Indiana mines. Only five mines in this state are known to be affected,
but the reports were incomplete.

If enough pressure is brought to bear for calling a strike against Judge Anderson's order, it is understood the call would be based on the award of the bituminous coal commission two years ago inserting the check-off system in the contract and a subsequent letter from President Wilson directing the miners and the operators to follow the dictates of the award.

Stop Unionizing Move

President John L. Lewis and other international officers of the union, it is understood, will follow the assurance they gave Judge Anderson to obey his temporary order restraining them from sending money into West Virginia for the purpose of unionizing the open shop region where civil war recently was waged. The order also banned the check-off system
whereby the mine operators deducted
union dues from the miners' paycheck.

Appeal to Higher Court

Decision may be reached to appeal
the case to the circuit court of appeals in Chicago. If this course is decided upon, the appeal will be drawn up and filed within the next few days. They have thirty days
in which to file the appeal, but work
on it would be speeded up to clear away the cloud of litigation surrounding the check-off as soon as possible.

The check-off system is an important part of the miners wage agreement with the operators. Attorneys for the 63 West Virginia mining corporations on whose petition the injunction was granted contend that without this system the union would perish or at least operate on a "shoestring." Union officials point out that their organization grew almost to the present size before the check-off system was inaugurated and they contend that they can continue to flourish. Its abolition now however would embarrass them by forcing them to hurriedly arrange a new system of collecting dues from their 500,000 members.

Immediately after Judge Anderson
had signed the writ late Monday, Lewis hurried back to his office and transacted routine business signing
correspondence and arranging other matters. Murray and other officers assembled in his office and they reviewed the events of the day and laid the foundation for future action.

OSHKOSH MEN ARE GIVEN SENTENCE

Milwaukee Federal Grand Jury Takes Up Liquor Law Violation Cases

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee—Peter Russ and Emory Love, Oshkosh, arraigned in federal court here Tuesday, under indictment by the grand jury, entered pleas of guilty and were sentenced to serve three months in the house of correction.

Arthur Gahbard, Jr., son of the arrested chief of police, Oshkosh, and Lee Ogden Oshkosh, charged with violation of the prohibition act, were arraigned late Tuesday afternoon.
Nick Tobias, Oshkosh, pleaded guilty to three counts, charging manufacture of moonshine and was sentenced to three months in the house of correction.

Among those to be arraigned in federal court here, are Thomas A.
Delaney, Green Bay, and James P.
O'Neill, both former federal prohibition directors, charged with conspiracy to violate national dry laws.

RETURN TO PEACE IS BIGGEST BLESSING

giving proclamation.

ONE DEAD IN MILWAUKEE AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

300 Walk Out At Ohio Mine In Protest

Move for Nationwide Tieup Fol- lows Granting of Federal In- junction Halting "Check-off" System of Collecting Dues.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Illinois coal miners will strike on the night shift Tuesday night in protest against Judge A. B.
Anderson's "check off" injunction,
according to advices received at general offices of coal operators here.

Besides ordering their mine foreman to prepare for a strike, the mine
operators instructed their salesmen not to take any further orders for coal and cancel what contracts now made, wherever possible.

By United Press Leased Wire
Athens, Ohio — Three hundred men employed at a mine of the New York Coal company here walked out Tuesday. They quit because of the federal court injunction against the "check off."

More Athens county miners are expected to follow during the day.

Chicago — Orders to prepare for a strike of coal miners, were sent out
by large coal mine operating companies Tuesday from their general offices here.

Mine operators believe the miners
will strike in protest against the ruling
by Judge A. B. Anderson in Indianapolis preventing collection of union
funds by the check-off system.

Prepare for Shutdown

Local mine foremen were instructed to get their property in condition to prepare for a shutdown.

Miners, union officials are meeting
in Indianapolis to decide what action
will be taken to fight Judge Anderson's ruling.

Leaders in labor circles here Tuesday declared they believed if the court's ruling is upheld, it will mean
the downfall of all unionism.

Victor A. Olander, secretary of the Illinois division of the American Federation of Labor who has made a study of the effect of court injunctions on organized labor, declared that the decision by Judge Anderson, if upheld,
could be construed to apply to any other strike.

"Under the ruling, it will be impossible for any labor union to support
any other striking body, no matter where it might be."

Can't Break Up Union

John Fitzpatrick, head of the "Chicago Federation of Labor, took a more optimistic view.

"I haven't yet seen a labor organization put out of business by injunction," Fitzpatrick said. "The union man must refuse to recognize an injunction because we believe that when used in restraint of labor, it is illegal."

Theodore M. Buck, editor of Chicago's leading labor paper, declared the only way to beat an injunction was to ignore it.

"The American Federation of Labor's policy since 1913 has been to ignore injunctions inasmuch as they are contrary to the constitution," Buck stated.

Charleston, W. Va.—Union efforts to organize the West Virginia coal fields,
will not be halted by the injunction
of Federal Judge Anderson in Indianapolis, district officials of the United Mine Workers here declared
Tuesday.

when Omaha passenger train No. 23,

women at Rice Lake, to four.

Rice Lake, Wis.—Three women were

the crash.

BURCH ATTORNEYS TO PLEAD INSANITY IN MURDER TRIAL

Minister's Son is Accused of As- sassination of John Bel- ton Kennedy

By Frank Bartholomew
By United Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles — "Insanity" will be the defense of Arthur Courteney Burch, minister's son, on trial here
for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, wealthy broker.

As the trial opened Tuesday, attorneys filed affidavits to pave the way for an insanity plea, causing a smashing sensation.

Four affidavits were read. They carried the signatures of prominent Los Angeles and Chicago alienists.
All maintained that Burch is of an erratic mind and incapable of sound thinking.

Burch slumped in his seat in apparent unconcern as the affidavits
were read by his attorney.

Madalynne Oberchain, who was in court when the affidavits were read,
showed no sign of surprise.

The affidavits were accepted as opening the way for a possible admission that Arthur C. Burch was the mysterious figure who rose from a hedge at Beverly Hills at midnight
of Aug. 5 and shot John Belton Kennedy to death with a sawedoff shotgun.

WOMAN'S PHOTO MAY AID SEARCH

By United Press Leased Wire Milwaukee—A photograph, yellow with age, of a beautiful woman, found in the effects of John L. Harding, wealthy mystery man, who died here recently, led the investigators to Chi- cago Tuesday, in the hopes of locating his relatives.

On the back of the photograph was written: "Taken in Chicago in 1924."
Search for "Betty," the girl on whom Harding was said to have bestowed many expensive gifts, has centered around Chicago. The finding of this girl, investigators believe, will help them find the man's relatives.

A photograph taken of Harding and his brother at Marquette, Mich., when they were small boys, has offered an-

New York Is Milkless As Drivers Quit

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Eight million persons in New York and vicinity faced a milk famine Tuesday as result of a strike of wagon drivers.

The strike went into effect when the demands of the drivers for a $5 a week are raised and two weeks vacation were refused and attempts at mediation by city and federal officials failed.

Only enough men to supply hospitals and other institutions were permitted to leave the stables reported for work Tuesday.

The districts affected by the strike include Greater New York, all of Connecticut within twenty miles of the Massachusetts border, a part of Long Island and New Jersey as far west as Paterson and Passaic.

An observant autoist has decided that in spite of these precautions the road will be blocked and Winnebago-co. highway authorities will be to blame because of the presence of uncut weeds.

to the chamber of commerce the condition of all packages received for shipment. Defective packages will be described and in this way the public will have an opportunity to learn just how certain articles should be packed so that they may be transported safely.

"Perfect packages" would be a big factor in bringing about lower transportation rates, it is pointed out, because the common carrier would have practically no losses through payment of claims for articles damaged in transit.

Articles carefully addressed would be expedited in delivery because not infrequently misdelivery is made or delivery delayed just because the label does not bear the full plain address of the consignee.

Benefits from a careful observance of "perfect package month" will be reaped entirely by the public and at the same time the work of the employees of the transportation companies will be made easier, it is declared.

PRIN. RASEY RAPS COLLEGE FRATS

Fraternities and Sororities Out of Step With Times,
Students Told

"The college fraternity and sorority will not exist one hundred years from today," said Louis C. Rasey, principal of the high school to the students of Lawrence college at the chapel hour on Tuesday in discussing what democracy should expect from education. The Greek letter organizations are out of step with the times, they will not be permanent for the same reason that an essentially selfish person is not permanent. One of two things must happen to these societies, either they will be entirely abolished or they will be changed and reorganized to fit into the modern plan of life."

He referred to the Greek letter organizations in making his third point, that democracy must expect co-operation from education. His first point, the one upon which he spent most of his time, was the need for critical evaluation in educational training as a basis for the great need for critical evaluation in later life. He urged as a second point that education train the man to be open minded, as a third point that it teach cooperation, and as a fourth that it train men to recognize personality and respect it; that the man is always the end and not the means.

MISS FERBER SURE TO BE GREETED BY CROWD OF FRIENDS

Appleton Provided Noted Author With Material for Her Stories

Interest in Edna Ferber as a reader and interpreter of her own stories is running high in Appleton in anticipation of the Appleton author's appearance in Lawrence Memorial chapel Friday, Nov. 4. Many Appleton friends of the brilliant young journalist and short story writer who made her beginning on the old Appleton Evening Crescent with its little office under what is now Yale more room for the any good to be done. Miss Ferber is anxious to hear her adventures since she has left "home."

Scarcely a child in the city before the Geenen company bought the Myse store, owned by Miss Ferber's parents, but remembers dolls, balls and jacks which were purchased in that store. It was located west of

Mayor Trying Hard To Find Efficient Method Of Garbage Disposal

Hawes Wants to be Sure He Has Found Right Method Before Making Recommendations to City Council—Many Plans are Suggested.

Appleton, in the front rank in almost every respect as a city, still has one big problem to solve, and the solution does not appear to be far distant.

That problem, which Mayor J. A. Hawes has uppermost in his mind, is the collection and disposal of garbage according to a municipal system which will keep the city healthful and free from the unattractive rubbish and ash piles which are allowed to exist in many backyards.

One big reason has stood in the way of earlier solution of this problem. That reason was the desire of the city administration to know which was the most successful system and the most effective before any money was spent here.

Mayor Hawes has found in a cursory survey that Badger cities have various methods of taking care of refuse, some of which are efficient and economical. There are cities, however, where large sums of money have been expended on a plant which later proved to be entirely unsatisfactory or unsuited to the community in which they operate.

Realizing that a large initial investment may have to be made for perhaps a system of trucks, an incinerator, a contract to a private concern or for some other plan, Mayor Hawes is making a thorough study of every method so that when Appleton votes its expenditures, the common council may be sure that it is spending its money wisely, and that a year or two later may not reveal a "white elephant" on the city's hands.

A determined effort was made by the delegates to the recent convention of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities in Janesville to gain data from men of other cities, but some of the best informants could not be found at times advantageous to discuss this problem. It had little place on the program.

It was learned by Mayor Hawes, however, that Janesville, Madison and Kenosha had systems that were more or less satisfactory. He intends to take with him one or more officials who would be responsible locally for operating a garbage disposal system and will visit these cities, conferring with the officials and the employees who actually make the collections. Fond du Lac and Green Bay also may be visited with the purpose of gaining ideas.

Something to Work On

Inquiry into the success of plans actually in operation is expected to give the council a basis on which to work. It is possible, that Mayor Hawes will present this matter at the next council meeting with suggestions which will place the garbage problem in some concrete form from which it can be worked into shape for consideration.

More angles to this problem present themselves than the city fathers know what to do with. A private concern collected kitchen garbage only with which to feed hogs until the hog market went so low as to make this unprofitable on the basis of free collection. The city now has an arrangement whereby collection will be made for a fee of one dollar a month.

The question arises whether the city, in any municipal plan it may adopt, should continue to collect only kitchen refuse which it may sell for feeding purposes and partially pay the expense of hauling it away. Collection of everything in the way of refuse, garbage, tin cans, rubbish, ashes and all waste, seems to have advantages, because the city always would have a cleanly, attractive appearance.

A plan at so might be worked out to haul away garbage at regular intervals of a few days each, and take away ashes and rubbish in the spring. Any plan that would require the public to pay a fee once a month seems to have no appeal, because people immediately try to save that money by burying or burning garbage, and having a teamster clean out their backyards once a year.

Supplementing a collection system there must be a means of disposing of what is gathered. Incinerators where all refuse is burned are expensive to purchase, and require no small amount of fuel to operate. They must be well away from the city, requiring a long haul. An alternative might be the purchase of a large dumping ground where it will not be offensive to residents of that particular locality.

Suggestions are sought by the mayor and aldermen locally as well as from other cities so that the solution made will be the right one.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups. Easy and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "cough remedy," you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

PARK DESERTED AS COLD SEASON OPENS

Alicia Park Camping Site Still Used Occasionally by Tourists

Sunday night was the first time in months that Alicia park was not used either by campers or picnickers, according to George Merkel, who is in charge of the tourist camp. He expects a slump from now on because of the lateness of the season.

Friday evening an automobile load of tourists camped there while enroute from Minneapolis to Florida to spend the winter. Autoists from Plainfield used the facilities Sunday.

Mr. Merkel allows the tourists to use the cabin at the park for shelter at night when the weather is cold. Most people have their camping equipment ready for use, but are surprised and pleased when they find a building is available for shelter.

Parties are held in the cabin frequently and several engagements already have been requested for coming days. The supply of wood around the park is almost exhausted and groups must provide their own fuel, Mr. Merkel says. No evening outings of young people are allowed unless responsible chaperones accompany the party.

An Easy Way For Thin People to Put on Flesh and Gain Weight

Strong, Straightforward Advice To Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women

If you are thin, scrawny and undeveloped, if your face is peaked and your cheeks and neck exhibit unsightly hollows, it's almost certain that your nervous system is at the bottom of the trouble. You can eat three, yes four, substantial, fat producing meals a day, but as long as your stomach has an insufficient supply of nerve force this food you eat will pass out of the body with little if any benefit.

In order to assimilate properly the nourishing food you eat and convert it into healthy tissue and fat the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first-class shape and until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put on flesh. Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy stay there flesh and it can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty nervous digestion.

Thin, nervous, run-down people, however, with impoverished blood and half starved looks are hailing with delight a quick and certain maker of solid flesh called EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES that is unequalled for repairing faulty digestion and correcting nervous digestive troubles. In fact, the makers of Evans' Triple Phosphates guarantee that one month's treatment will increase your weight by several pounds and within ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. Leading druggists everywhere have agreed to supply Evans Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money refunded.

Caution: While Evans' Triple Phosphates accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, it should not be taken by anyone who objects to a few additional pounds of solid staythere flesh.

Visitor's Week a Great Success

We never believed that so many people were interested in seeing how a modern laundry is operated. But last week opened our eyes.

Many of them were under the impression that acids and other injurious chemicals are used in order to remove dirt from the clothes; but when they saw that nothing but "IVORY SOAP," PURE SODA and oceans of SOFT WATER are the only agents used in our modern laundry they quickly changed their opinions.

We also learned something, namely, that the general public likes to see how their work is being turned out. So we have decided to make every day of the year Visitor's Day.

QUALIFICATIONS OF LEGISLATORS

Another form of indictment has been returned against legislators. It is not criminal or political, but scientific. Prof. Allen Johnson of Yale university told the school of citizenship of the Connecticut League of Women that less than half of the members of state legislatures have had experience to fit them for their work as public servants and only fifteen per cent have had college education.

What are the qualifications, if any, that a state legislator should have? Is it sufficient that he is popular and has a large civic following? Is a college education essential? Should he be versed in the law? Should his efficiency be determined by his sagacity as a trader or compromiser? Should it be ample for him to be competent to act in behalf of a special group or special interests? Should oratorical eloquence be enough?

Prof. Johnson's investigation showed that farmers constitute one-third of the personnel of state legislatures, lawyers one-fourth, and business men one-fifth. The statistics do not give the percentage of professional politicians. Possibly it is this missing information which would be most enlightening as to the deficiency of state lawmakers as a class.

It would seem that the chief qualifications of a legislator should be loyalty, integrity, fairness and good, sound common sense. They should produce the results which the people desire. By far too many of our legislators are chosen without any real regard for their qualifications, their personal fitness or their ability to serve the public interests. The average standard of our law making bodies is not high. The legislation they enact, or fail to enact, is largely responsible for public dissatisfaction, unrest and agitation. Sound attention to law making is an antidote for radicalism.

Intellectuality is not a requisite for a lawmaker. Honesty of purpose, independent thinking and horse sense are the best qualifications. They are rarely found in the makeup of the professional politician. So long as we fill our legislatures and our congress with professional politicians, men with a grievance against society and fanatics with a pet hobby or idea to serve so long will our legislative results be unsatisfactory.

WHO WOULD HAVE THOUGHT IT?

The Christmas season is drawing near. That surprises you, no doubt, but it is true, as you will realize if you pause to count the weeks between today and the greatest of all holidays.

As Christmas approaches, we have visions of making others happy with the gifts we send. But in laying our plans for this occasion let us not forget that the Christmas spirit can be observed in ways other than the exchange of gifts.

There are the workers in shops and stores who also are thinking of Christmas and all that it means. But they are obliged to forego much of the pleasure that is rightfully theirs because they serve the great throng of Christmas shoppers.

And so The Post-Crescent says today: "DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY!"

It is an old warning, but a timely one. Merchants now have on hand many, if not all, of the articles you will want to purchase for Christmas.

Get them NOW. Remember the salespeople. Do your part to give them a happy holiday.

Doing your Christmas shopping early has a double effect. It helps to distribute the work of Uncle Sam's messenger—the mail carrier. He does not like to work on Christmas any better than you would. Make it possible for him to be at home with his family.

"DO YOUR CHRISTMAS MAILING EARLY!"

PROMOTING THE COMMON CAUSE IN COMMUNITY BUILDING

There is a broad conception of community progress and commercial success which is indispensable to advancement. It rests on the plain idea that what is good for all is good for each unit. The business man who is a friendly competitor to his aggressive rival realizes more profit from being just and considerate. The citizen who respects religion in general, and refrains from criticizing other denominations fosters reverence among the people for faith and morals, eradicates prejudices and elevates the spiritual and intellectual character of his community. In every phase of commercial and municipal endeavor there is an ideal or principle of mutual individual and public value.

An old-fashioned oddity among merchants and manufacturers—the type is not extinct, for there are specimens in this and every other town—is the business man, who, if he cannot accommodate a person, sends this customer to a mercantile concern in some other market. Narrow and selfish of mind, his vision is so obscured that he does not perceive that he is building up and strengthening the rival market. It seldom, if ever, injures a merchant to acknowledge the existence of a rival, and the best and surest means of developing a commercial market is for the business interests to work together for the common good.

Communities, as well as individuals and corporations, are in vigorous competition with one another. The business houses and the churches of a town are in more or less of a continuous struggle for preponderance, yet they must all be in accord, on common ground, for the general welfare of the community of which they are a part.

Every citizen, every institution, every organization in a town is obligated, by a selfish theory, to manifest live interest in the common cause. The first essential is to take cognizance of the fact that there is a common cause. The second is to contribute money, effort and loyal sentiment to secure through harmonious cooperation the facilities which produce happiness, prosperity and advancement and which make a town progressive and better.

THE SPIRIT OF FOCH'S INITIAL MESSAGE

On setting sail from England an American admiral flashed this signal from his ship: "I hope to be with you on the high seas when we meet again." The significance of this sea-warrior's farewell was that he looked forward with pleasure to another war.

On coming to America Marshal Foch paid a respectful tribute to the heroes who consecrated the soil of France and Belgium with their blood and sacrificed their lives for democracy, and he offered his deep sympathy to their bereaved relatives. "Their sacrifice," he said, "rests as the base of the peace of the world for which we are working in common today, inspired by the same sentiments which united us on the field of battle."

There is no bombast to the Foch statement. It is conscientious, straightforward and brave, and in perfect harmony with the feelings and convictions of the great majority of the people. The sterling character of Foch compels respect, admiration and affection.

SERMON FROM THE BOOK OF BABE

The young men and boys who spend these afternoon hours at the game of watching the ball, most of them, admirers of the great Ruth. Before the world series began he was the unapproached king of the four base hitters. He swung at the ball with all the strength of his huge arms, legs and torso—and away it went beyond the confines of the ball park.

If we had a sermon to deliver to the young men who admire Ruth and envy him his large income, we should say to the student, then out of the bleachers, and consider his ways. He is always trying, always working, always striving at the ball, always impressing on team mates with over dynamic quality. The experts say that he struck out more times in the first five games than any other player in the history of the world series. But his little bunt led directly to the Yankees' victory on Monday.

George Herman Ruth, known variously in esoteric circles as the Bambino and the Sultan of Swat, is a great man because he works at his job. A game man, he stayed in the play as long as he could be of use to the Yankees.—New York Herald (Ind.)

NEREY A DUD

The recent announcement by the interstate commerce commission that it will hold hearings on plans to consolidate the railroads of the country into nineteen systems, which was expected to be something of a big shell, has turned out a dud. There was a time when the mere suggestion that it was proposed to consolidate the railroads would have caused the embittered farmers of the country to spring to arms before the government. It seems to be pretty generally realized nowadays, however, that competition between railroads is costly business and an absurdity in view of the fact that rates have been taken out of the hands of the railroads.

The consolidation plans, while drawn with a view of bringing operating units into existence that can function with the least lost motion is also designed to bolster up security values.

The consolidations are a long way in the future, but eventually some such action will be taken. Thus it is with regard to the government's plan to take the initiative in the so-called Hill and Harman plan to lay down.—JOHNSTOWN DEMOCRAT (Ind.)

BASEBALL VERSUS BARNYARD GOLF

Most of those who pay to see baseball games would be doing themselves more good mentally and physically if they got out and played barnyard golf. The tired businessman as well as his grandmother-venerable office boy, and his clerks and office force need not only fresh air and sunshine, but a little actual physical exercise to balance over against the evils of the sedentary life. They do not get this by sitting in the grandstand or the bleachers, and the vicarious excitement they experience as spectators of football and baseball games rather adds to their tiredness and certainly is no advantageous change from the nerve and brain lag of business.

There may be some good in ordinary golf, for old codgers? It is a sad fate for a chap whose arteries are still soft.

But barnyard golf is a different proposition. It involves some little perspiration and some little exercise aside from walking to and fro over the course. It calls for skill and a good eye. It affords all the pleasure of competition with one's fellows. It may be played wherever there is 50 feet of earth or sod or ground available. It costs practically nothing for the impedimenta of the game—a set of horseshoes selected from the blacksmith's junk pile and a pair of stakes or length of iron pipe. Pitching horseshoes is great fun, and you don't have to walk or ride in the country to play the game—you can play it in your own backyard or in the driveway. Picking up the shoes is a darn sight better exercise for the overworked man or woman than is pounding a dinky little rubber ball around a lot.

Young America is no piker in athletic competition with the foreign youth, but professional baseball does nothing at all for young America; and it is sad to think how many champions are destined to remain unknown and unrecognized because the abnormal attraction of mere sport like baseball keeps the youngster content with passive participation and prevents him from taking an active interest in any game at all.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Relations.
I am going with a young man whose father is the first cousin of my mother. What relation would I be to the young man? Aren't we third cousins? Would it be unwise for us to marry? (Miss Ohio.)

Answer—I can't follow relationship beyond first cousins, but without guaranteeing anything I think you would be second cousins, and it is better, I believe, for second cousins not to marry, for the same reason that first cousins should not marry one another, namely, that such a union doubles the probability of offspring inheriting any defects of the family. Laws of church and state against the marriage of nearly related persons are well founded.

The Bellies.
I often go on long hikes, and sometimes they are planned so that my menstruation comes just as I am about to start or after I have started. The function has never given me any trouble, but I wonder whether it is safe for me to indulge in such strenuous exercise at such times? Mother used to warn me against any activity. (M. A.)

Answer—You call menstruation a function, which is a hopeful sign; so many of the delicate or morbid school still refer to it as "illness." Certainly this function does not call for any letting down in a girl's usual or ordinary activities, play or work. On the contrary, it generally better for her well being if she declines to be coddled merely because she is of the feminine sex.

Cornaro. From 10 Cents Up.
Since reading your captivating talk about "Cornaro, Who Ate Much," I have been anxious to know more about the great man and his philosophy of life. Will you please inform me what book by him or about him one may buy and where. (L. A. E.)

Answer—William F. Butler, Milwaukee, Wis., publishes Luigi Cornaro's "The Art of Living Long," $2. A reader informs me that 25-cents sent to E. H. Julius, Girard, Kan., will purchase a very good reprint of Cornaro's essay on long life. Does it interest you? Call attention to No. 33, of the People's Pocket Series, "How to Live 100 Years," by Cornaro, which may be purchased for 10 cents. From Appeal Publishing Company, 750 Apple building, Girard, Kan. I have not personally examined these latter publications. Probably you can find them in the public library.

A Warning Signal.
A woman aged 48 ceased menstruating three years ago, since which time she has been troubled with hot flashes, chiefly affecting her head and face. (1) Is there any remedy for this? Does it indicate serious condition? About a month ago she noticed three or four small stains resembling blood stains. (2) If blood stains, would that mean cancer? (3) How may I find out? I have very fair health, the occasional tenderness in lower abdomen. (Mrs. C. M. G.)

Answer—(1) Often correction of errors of general hygiene will relieve hot flashes. In some cases appropriate dulcified gland medication, which is safe only under the personal direction of your physician, brings relief. (2) No. (3) It is one of the danger signals. Anything resembling slight, occasional bleeding occurring months or years after the cessation of menstruation should be considered suggestive of an invasion of the conference rules. It is cheering because it matters a good deal to America that its colleges should mean to win or lose by the merit of their play.

Said President Garfield of Carroll College the other night: "No nation can be cleaner than its sport, no man can be cleaner than his play, and no nation can rise higher than its manhood." He meant, we suppose, that the kind of man you are is the kind of nation you want to be. You do it by playing. If you like, you can play a lazy man's game, taking whatever score drops out of the hat. Or you can fight for every possible inch, every stroke on every hole. Or you can cheat.

Cheating in sport doesn't hurt one's adversary much. It only fools the cheater, who gains nothing at all. But if a man is a cheater, he will carry it into his play.

We need clean sport in America. Perhaps we need it more than at some other times. For war seems to have got around to some men down at Washington that if you can cheat other nations and get away with it, you're pretty smart. Clean Sport and Clean Nations

It is cheering to find the University of Minnesota apologizing, by apologizing outright and unequivocally, because the coach of its football team played a trick in numbering players, which amounted to an invasion of the conference rules. It is cheering because it matters a good deal to America that its colleges should mean to win or lose by the merit of their play.

Said President Garfield of Carroll College the other night: "No nation can be cleaner than its sport, no man can be cleaner than his play, and no nation can rise higher than its manhood." A National Forest Policy

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C. — A measure which is designed to put all of the forest lands in the United States, whether owned by the state, by the nation or by private individuals, in a condition of maximum productivity, is to be strongly urged upon the Congress by the industries in this country which are dependent upon forest products.

Their first effort is to bring home to the American citizen the fact that, although he lives in one of the finest timber-growing countries in the world, his domestic timber supply is being rapidly exhausted. He is paying higher prices every year for paper, lumber and all other wood products. More and more of them are being imported every year. Our forest lands are producing only a fraction of what they might produce, and the amount of employment they afford is correspondingly limited. A national forest policy is of the interest of everyone in the country.

The various great wood-using industries are supporting the Snell bill, which embodies exactly what they want in the way of timber conservation. Strangely enough, the experts of the Forest Service, the American Forestry Association, and many others interested in conservation, seem to be equally satisfied with this measure. In a word, the business men and the scientists for once seem to agree upon what is needed. And the business interests for once seem to have perceived that their interests will best be served in the long run by a policy of conservation, not one of unplanned exploitation.

The trouble is to arouse public interest in the measure. Roosevelt years ago aroused public interest in forest conservation to a high pitch when he succeeded in having the national forests created. The creation and use of the national forests has been one of the few indisputable triumphs of American legislation and administration. The average man thinks it solved the forestry problem for all time. As a matter of fact, while it helped greatly, it could not in the nature of the case solve it. The national forests are, all but a few small areas, in the West. The act seems too late to enable the Government to get large timber areas in the East.

Hence the forests protect only a few varieties of trees, and not the most important. By far the greater part of the national forests are timbered only with pine, spruce and fir—soft woods of relatively low value. The oak, maple, walnut and other valuable hardwoods are scarcely protected by them at all. Furthermore, the Government is limited by the act, in its acquisition of forests lands, to those that protect watersheds. This has kept the Forest Service protection away from important areas.

Timber Wasted.
It is the vast timber areas, and areas that might be covered with timber, in private ownership, that are being wasted. Fire, for one thing, is destroying billions of dollars worth of timber. Nearly all of it could be prevented. In the second place, many pieces of land which are admirably fitted for growing timber, and are not useful or used for any thing else, have been laid waste, and must be reforested. In the third place, owners of timber lands, and especially small owners, have no conception of using a forest as a permanent source of wealth, to be cropped at intervals. American landowners as a whole, have not learned even the rudiments of silviculture. To cut timber in this country still means to waste a valuable natural resource out of existence.

The Snell bill is designed to remedy all of these evils. It provides a Federal appropriation to be used in cooperating with the states in protecting and renewing their forests. The states are required to put up as much money in each instance as the Federal Government. This part of the measure would mean the introduction of uniform efficient methods of fire protection and reforestation in every state. The need for it may be gauged from the fact that experts pronounce our forest fire protection system only 25 per cent efficient. There are about 175,000,000 acres of forest in this country which are not protected from fire at all, and this means wealth going up in smoke just as surely as if you touched a match to it. Only 25 of the states have forest fire protection system at all. New York and Pennsylvania have to import about 90 per cent of the timber they use, because of the depletion of their forests.

A Forest Survey.
The bill also provides for a complete survey of our forest resources. This is one of its most important provisions in the eyes of the foresters. No one knows what we have in this or just where it is. Equally important from the technical point of view is the appropriation of a million dollars a year for five years to be spent in studying the utilization of wood, and also the problems of forestry taxation. The Forest Products Laboratory at Madison, Wisconsin, has already demonstrated the great possibilities of new methods in the use of wood. For example, it saved box manufacturers a million dollars a year. It is developing ways of seasoning wood in kilns which promise to save millions. It has demonstrated repeatedly that scientific research in this line pays immediate and large returns.

The taxation of forests is a matter requiring much study. It should be so arranged, the foresters say, that the planting and growing of timber crops will pay. The bill would also appropriate a million a year for five years to be used in reforesting denuded lands in national forests. There are a million and a half acres of burned over land in the national forests that must be reseeded.

Ten million dollars is asked for, buying new acres to be put in to national forest. There are areas in the Alleghenies and elsewhere in the East which can be purchased by the Government now at relatively low prices. They will cost more in the future and the timber upon them will be scarcer. National forests in the East should have been acquired long ago.

This section of the bill should be of special interest to the public because of the great value and interest which the national forests in the West have developed as playgrounds. In the East all of the finest camping and fishing and hunting country is privately owned, but in the West, by reason of the national forests, a poor man can have a summer home in the best mountain country in the world. The measure would also increase the size of the national forests by authorizing the exchange of timber in national forests for lands outside of them. This means that an individual or company which owned deforested timber land outside of, but contiguous to a national forest, could exchange it for so many board feet of timber on national forests. This timber would of course be cut under direction of the Forest Service so as not to injure the stand. Meanwhile the Forest Service could reforest the lands acquired by this method.

The Snell bill seems to be regarded by all authorities as a model conservation measure. It calls for a good deal of money, but money expended in conserving national resources and in learning how to use them, is money that makes a return to the taxpayer. It makes the things he needs cheaper and provides opportunity for employment and investment. It is the tax money paid for armies and navies and the machinery of government and in loans to foreign powers that really leaves us forever.

THE QUESTION BOX

Q. Please give comparative value per acre of Porto Rico and Nancy Hall sweet potatoes. J. C. V.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that the yield of Porto Rico and Nancy Hall sweet potatoes is as a rule about equal on the same type of soil. They generally consider 150 to 220 bushels of either variety a very fair crop. However, they have records of 400 or more bushels to the acre. The Porto Rico variety is inclined to produce a good many exercised potatoes, but these are usually of fine quality.

Q. Will ice freeze thicker in one locality than another if the temperature is the same? E. E. J.

A. The Weather Bureau says that if the other conditions are also the same, there will be no difference in the thickness of the ice. Other conditions may differ very much. For instance, there may be only shallow water at the one place and quite deep at the other. In this case the shallow water has thicker ice than deep water. Indeed the deep water may have no ice at all. Or the wind may keep the water in motion thus hindering freezing in one case, whereas the absence of wind would favor freezing.

Q. How many Knights Templar were there in the parade in Philadelphia last year. Also how many horses and bands? R. D.

A. There were 253 horses and 43 bands in the Knights Templar parade and it is estimated that there were 5,400 men in line.

Q. What portion of the land of the earth is in forests? C. O. L.

A. Twenty-seven per cent of the land of the earth is in forests. Of the total land area of 52,572,000 square miles, 14,140,440 square miles are forest land.

Q. In poker, must the cards be cut? S. M. C.

A. Cutting the cards before the deal in a poker game is optional. They are offered to the player to cut dealer's right. If he refuses to cut them, no other player may demand the right to cut.

Q. Name some other discoveries of Columbus's time. A. W.

A. Among the greatest discoveries of Columbus's time were Vincente Pinzon, Amerigo Vesputci, and Francisco de Orellana.

Q. Why are first prizes given the blue ribbon? R. E. L.

A. The custom originated with the Corded Blue or Blue Ribbon, a term applied to first class coats, especially to female coats. The Blue Ribbon originally represented an ancient French order of knighthood and was first conferred upon a female cook by Louis XV at the suggestion of Madame Du Barry.

A Resume of American Newspaper Opinion

Peace—What Next

The senate has rung down the final curtain on the American drama, "Peace With Germany," and while there is a good deal of press discussion of the last act of the play, there is, as the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER (Ind. Dem.) says, "no excitement whatever over the advent of peace." Apparently after holding the center of the stage for more than two years the act has begun to pall, and newspaper interest now is centered chiefly on what the epilogue will develop.

No "reasonable human being," the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION (Ind.) believes, "can accept the German treaty as a final solution of the problem arising out of the war." Since "it solves nothing," it is rather the position in which it leaves the United States, the NEWARK-NEWS (Ind.) thinks, is best expressed in the vernacular, "We don't know where we're going, but we're on our way." Certainly, "passage of the treaty leaves the country without any understandable foreign policy." That policy is "still a thing of shreds and patches," the IPEORIA TRANS-CRIP (Ind.) agrees, and "rests on benevolent intentions and shapeless good will."

Under the treaty, the WHEELING (W. Va.) REGISTER (Dem.) declares, "the future foreign relations of this country will be insecure and uncertain," and the peace it makes "is going to be an embarrassing one." The United States, as the CHICAGO POST (Ind.) sees it, "has become a party to an agreement which embodies many a hollow and empty farce and cannot but work great harm in the long run, to our international standing," for "we have stipulated dictatorial and degenerate requirements which we have no means, except the good faith of a weak, unwilling and shifting government, to enforce," and since "nothing is guaranteed," the ROCHESTER HERALD (Ind.) holds that "this new bargain leaves our relations with Germany and with the allied nations in much the same chaos of uncertainty that they were in before."

However, so far as our foreign policy is concerned, the SPRINGFIELD UNION (Rep.) feels that "more depends on what is to follow than upon any steps so far taken," and the ratification of the Berlin treaty "can only be considered as a provisional step in the somewhat difficult process of trying to secure our national interests without sacrificing our traditional policy of non-concern and freedom from entanglement." The peace pact "opens a long way toward defining and fixing our general relations with Europe," the DETROIT FREE PRESS (Ind.) is convinced; and "it provides a foundation for many important policies." Defects will "soon disclose themselves," the ILLINOIS STATE JOURNAL (Springfield, Rep.) thinks, "and subsequent negotiations can correct them." In any event, the treaty "was to be accepted for the sake of what will come after it," the NEWARK POST (Ind.) feels, and it agrees with the ILLINOIS JOURNAL, NEWS (Ind.) that "the first step is the appointment of an American representative on the reparations commission," for that body "holds in its hands the economic future of Europe," and since "America has a great stake in the future," it must "take a part in determining it." If, as Senator Johnson declared, "the reparations provisions of the Versailles treaty are revolting to every advocate of future peace and every lover of liberty," the POST asks which is the better course for a lover of peace and liberty: To stand aside and let these repugnant clauses function, or to lend our aid in bringing about a revision of these clauses? The "economic necessity of regulating reparations in the interest of world recovery" the GRAND RAPIDS PRESS (Ind.) thinks, "should be con-

Motor-Racing in Berlin

A revival of interest in German motor car construction and racing is seen by the Berlin correspondent of the LONDON OBSERVER in the vast crowds which recently assembled at the motor-course presented to the city by Hugo Stinnes.

Upon the fact that betting is less typical of the occasion than a vast national interest, in the progress of the German automobile industry, says the writer, "which has been as a practical standard for the past seven years, and is today at a recognized disadvantage in comparison with the progress made during the same time in other countries." Germany's state with some disquiet that the number of American manufacturers doing brisk business in Switzerland has increased from four in 1919 to forty today. It is ten years since the last motor exhibition was held here. While agreed that without constant shows and races there can be no incentive and little improvement, experts have little faith in the fact that races are of value solely from the advertising point of view, and not as a test of engineering. "Quite one of the most interesting features to the layman is the appearance of the 'Schleier' car, fitted up with all those little elegances of comfort, from clock and vase to in-laid ivory fittings which were entirely lacking in Germany before. But the outstanding fact connected with the whole enterprise is the name of Stinnes, who on the first day actually printed a whole edition of his paper with racing results, for free distribution in the Berlin cafes in the evening."

Tasty Bread Puddings

Bread puddings are much maligned sometimes, but if properly made they are quite as good as a more expensive dainty containing little or no nourishment.

A bread pudding uses up a small piece of bread that might otherwise go to waste and adds a large amount of food value to any meal. The crusts of the bread may be discarded, but should be saved for crumbs.

Plain Bread Pudding:
Two cups stale bread crumbs, 4 cups milk, ½ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs.

Scald milk and pour over bread. Let stand until milk is absorbed. Add sugar, salt and cinnamon and beat well. Add one egg and beat thoroughly. Add the other egg and beat till the whole is light. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake an hour in a slow oven. Serve hot with hard sauce.

Bread Pudding with Meringue
One cup bread crumbs, 2 cups milk, ½ cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 lemon (grated rind), raspberry or strawberry jam, ½ cup powdered sugar.
Scald milk and pour over bread crumbs. Add sugar and let cool. Add butter, yolks of eggs well beaten and lemon rind. Mix well and pour into a buttered baking dish. Bake in a slow oven till firm to the touch. Remove from oven, spread with jam and cover with the meringue made by beating the whites of the eggs till stiff and dry and folding in the powdered sugar. Put in a hot oven to brown the meringue. Serve the pudding warm.

Chocolate Bread Pudding
One and one-half cups bread crumbs, 2 squares Bakers chocolate, ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 eggs, 1 cup milk, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Melt chocolate over hot water. Heat milk and stir in chocolate gradually. Cream butter and sugar, add egg yolks well beaten, bread crumbs and chocolate mixture. If the mixture seems dry, add enough milk to make moist. Beat whites of eggs till stiff and dry and fold into mixture. Pour into a buttered mold and steam an hour and a half. Serve with whipped cream or custard sauce.

Bachelor's Pudding
Two cups bread crumbs, 2 ½ cup cleaned currants, 1 cup chopped apple, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ cup sugar, 3 eggs, 1 lemon (grated rind), 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ teaspoon salt, milk.
Mix apple, currants, sugar, lemon rind, nutmeg and salt thoroughly. Stir in the eggs well beaten. Let mixture stand for half an hour and add the baking powder. If at all stiff add enough milk to make moist.

Outside of the everyday courtesy extended to all there is something which tends to make cold business transactions pleasant. This abstract quality is: Confidence.

It is gratifying to us to receive these expressions of confidence. Sometimes it is but a few words appended to a mail order, or it may be a single word over the telephone. It is evident, nevertheless that the Novelty Boot Shop has friends who have faith in Novelty shoes, in their style, leadership and in their ability to fit shoes which are wholly comfortable. This and our policy to give the most possible value for every cent spent seems to work out famously.

DOGS LOSE TRAIL OF LOST BANKER

Nationwide Search is Started for Arthur C. Bazlen, Missing
from Luxemburg

Green Bay.—A nationwide hunt was started on Monday for Arthur C. Bazlen, missing Luxemburg banker, following the failure of searching parties to find any trace of him in this vicinity.

Hoodhounds, which were put on his trail on Saturday and on Sunday, led the posss as far as the railroad tracks and then stopped. Although several new starts were made, the dogs lost the trail at the tracks, leading authorities to believe that Bazlen left this part of the state on a freight train.

Bazlen disappeared last Wednesday. Nothing has been heard from him since. He is vice president of the bank of Luxemburg and has a wide reputation for his ability as a banker.

Authorities who completed a check of the bank's books reported on Monday that Bazlen's accounts are in excellent shape. L. Albert Karol, Luxemburg president of the institution, ascribes Bazlen's disappearance to a mental collapse.

Bazlen is 35 years old. He has a wife and two children. He was recently promoted to the vice presidency of the bank after years of service as cashier.

BURGLAR SENT TO NORTHERN ASYLUM

Youth Who Broke Into Kaukauna Stores is Committed
at Green Bay

(Special to Post-Crescent.)
Kaukauna.—Harold Finnegan, 20, of Green Bay, the young man who broke into Mulholland's tea shop and the Butler-Dietzel Co. hardware store a week ago, has been committed to the Northern hospital for insane at Oshkosh. The young man was interrupted while attempting to rob a hardware store in DePere but he and his accomplice escaped. Later he admitted his part in the affair and trial was suspended pending the outcome of the sanity examination.

The manner in which the two recent robberies in this city were committed has led the police to link Finnegan with the attempts which were made a few months ago at the offices of Brenner and Grebe and the Gantner-Badett Co.

Halloween Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Archie Crevere entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner and a Halloween party at their home Sunday evening. An evening of games and social enjoyment followed. Twelve persons were present.

Sewing Club Meets
The Kaukauna Sewing club met Monday evening at the home of Miss Marie Channing.

Minstrel Revue
The Fox minstrel revue to be presented at the auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings under the direction of the John B. Rogers Producing Co. will be one of the snappiest home talent plays ever produced in Kaukauna. George A. Williams, director, is pleased with the talent and material and he believes that with the cast of about 65 he will be able to give the community a treat.

The opening number is a minstrel with the following characters: William Galambacher and Mike Corcoran, premier comedians, Owen Kito and Lyle Webster, first edition ends; Mike Brewster and Lester Brenzel, minor ends; Arthur Meyer and Harold Derus, dummy ends; Elliot Zekind, interlocutor.

The chorus consists of Elmer Ott, Richard Smith, Melvin Luckow, Louis Miller, Milton Metz, Walter Gerend, Eugene Van Able, Kenneth O'Boyle, Sarah Boren, and William Taylor.

This will be followed by a snappy "Get Acquainted" sketch consisting of witty "crossfire" in which Miss Genevieve DeBrue and Orville Crevere are the leads, supported by a chorus composed of the following: Valeria Gerend, Hazel Garvey, Flora Wilson, Hildagard Regenzus, Florence Jacobs, Selma Miller, Enola Van Leshout and Margaret Rennicks.

The next act shows William Harwood as Henry Hunter, a soldier of fortune, taking a trip through China with that smoke tinted gentleman from Georgia, Mike Corcoran, Archie Crevere as a Chinese mandarin and his daughter Ming Foy, nee Miss Ruth Conlon, and a chorus of Chinese maids add to the act. The maids are Lillian Sager, Evelyn Jahrls, Lucille Smith, Helen Guilfoyle, Zella Peranteau and Lucille Look. Costumes are Richard Jansen, Henry Lorenson, Lawrence Gerend, Joseph Sadler, William Hinkle and Carl Chopin. James Merrill will exhibit his "vibrating floorboards."

The last act is a pretty scene in southern cotton fields, showing the funny side of negro home life. It is circus day and the following characters are used: Jack Ledy, Dad Bill, Dan Garvey, Zeke, Carl Anderson, Bill Buck, Mammy, Warner Wandell, Mr. Wagonback, circus man; Henry Olin, Ed. McMorro; Maurice Emperor, Arthur Porantow, Playt Schneider, Warren Brenzel, ducks; Amy Bayarzon, Lyle Webster, Leo Spindler, Frank Spindler, Edward Thelen, and Gordon Van Leshout, wenches.

FATHER AND SON WEEK PROGRAM AT "Y" NEXT WEEK

President, Governor and Mayor Indorse Movement to Cement Home Ties

"Father and Son week" will be observed throughout the United States during the week of Nov. 6 to 12. Proclamations have been issued by President Warren G. Harding, Governor J. J. Blaine and by Mayor J. A. Hawes of Appleton commending the movement. The Y. M. C. A. with the cooperation of the churches of Appleton will outline a fitting program.

The success of this movement during the last four or five years has won for it a distinct place as a most constructive institution for increasing a more sympathetic relationship between father and son, and thus strengthening the home ties upon which the strength of our nation depends. Mr. Harding's proclamation says: "Father and son usually lack the opportunity because the father is engaged outside the home. Any means by which father and son can be brought together promotes a good fellowship between them and between

CITY IS RUSHING WORK ON STREETS

Two New Streets Soon Will Be Available—Other Streets are Cindered

Street department crews are losing no time opening up, widening and grading before snow flies the streets where condemnation proceedings have made the needed property available for the city's use.

Lorain-st. has been opened up from Summit to Mason-st. and now is a public highway. The surface has been graded nicely and put into the best of condition for traffic.

Within a few days Appleton-st. will be extended from its present north end north to the city limits. This is an improvement demanded by residents of that locality for sometime and gives a convenient outlet to Second ave.

Grading is also in progress on Summit, from Packard to Elsie-st., and on Rogers-ave. from Mason to Outagamie. Improvements also will be made on Third-st. from Locust to Story, and on Pierce-ave. from Second-st. to Fourth-st.

HALLOWEEN QUIET AS POLICE WATCH FOR FUN MAKERS

Few Youngsters are Taken to Task for Too Much Realism in Their Sport

Due largely to the vigilance of police, Halloween passed quietly in Appleton.

Complaints of annoyance received at the police station from residents were immediately answered and embryo plots were not allowed to hatch. Several groups of mischief makers were taken into the station and emphatically cautioned against the destruction of property after which they were released with the warning that if caught a second time they would have to answer in court.

Chief among the trouble makers was a group of boys who toured the city in an automobile, accomplished premeditated or extemporaneous damage and then hurried away to another place. A number of complaints were received by residents who had suffered annoyance from the night riders and police officers were detailed to seize them.

"They finally succeeded in locating a party of boys in an automobile and took them to the station. Roger Ashman, the driver of the machine, was booked on a charge of speeding. After that no more complaints were received of the mischievous auto party and it was believed that the proper persons had been taken.

I. D. Segal of 466 Pacific-st. reported Tuesday that he had been played with the flower beds and that a large ornamental concrete vase had been torn from its base and broken. Paraffine and soap was used to freeze a few windows in the business district.

COMPLETE STATION AT NEW TOURIST INN RESORT

The Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power Co. has completed its new station at Tourist Inn near Potato point and is strapping wires on new poles just put in which will convey electricity to the new hotel for power and lighting purposes. The poles are of extra length in order to get the wires above those of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. The station is painted yellow to correspond with the company's rolling stock and the poles are painted white to correspond with the color of Tourist Inn. A double driveway from the main thoroughfare leads into the grounds. It has been cindered and the sides are designated by boulders painted white.

all fathers and sons and it is this good fellowship that is promoted that gives pleasure to the young and old alike.

"It is hoped that all constructive agencies interested in the boy life of the nation will observe this week by bringing together fathers and sons in school, in churches, in clubs, and other places and provide such wholesome activities and educational experiences that will tend to bridge any widening chasm between father and sons." Gov. Blaine said.

Following is the proclamation by Mayor Hawes:

"Because it has an important bearing on civic welfare in Appleton, as well as on individual welfare in countless cases, I feel it my duty to call attention to the well-conceived plan for a 'Father and Son Week.' The purpose is admirable. Anything that tends to bring Father and Son closer together in friendly spirit cannot but be beneficial to themselves and the community.

"I believe that fathers can do more than any others to stem the great and alarming tide of 'dropping out' of school, which carried many boys out into the world unfit for progress and prosperity or public service.

"Many boys grow to manhood, virtually ignorant of even the simplest processes of government. These every father can explain to his son. The son, in every case, should become better than his father, for that marks progress.

"The 'Week' that is coming will suggest many ways in which fathers may gain more completely the confidence of their sons, with all that means of effective guidance and unresented control.

"I, therefore, call upon the fathers of this city and request their cooperation in this important movement by attending, with their sons, at least one of the meetings to be held during the 'Father and Son Week.' I hope the men who have no sons will befriend the boys who have no fathers."

Menasha, has recovered his Chevrolet touring car which was stolen Thursday night, Oct. 20, while he was attending a barn dance at the Mike Wittman farm on the Menasha rd.

Two men drove the machine to Rhineland where they attempted to exchange it for a Ford sedan belonging to a garage man. The garage man took the license number of the machine and ascertained its ownership by consulting the automobile license directory. He was suspicious of the men and felt certain that the car had been stolen.

Following arrest, the two thieves abandoned the car and made their get-away. Syring was notified and he went to Rhineland and drove the machine home.

Dollar---Uncrowned King

As a master, the dollar is indeed almighty. It is the lord of the land and the uncrowned king of the universe. It is the instrument of the incentives that make man work. For it is the dollar that provides all comforts and makes possible most pleasures enjoyed by mankind. But—

Money Is a Servant
The habit of Thrift inevitably brings money and property to the man who possesses it. Money is a good servant. The rewards it yields are greatly to be desired; they include Security, Self-respect, Power, Influence, Standing, Authority, Consideration, Precedence, and many other things which men love.

But Without It
Lack of money brings misery. It has been the cause for many premature gray hairs. All of which can be avoided by depositing in this bank a part of your income in a Savings Account.

LAWRENCE STARTS PREPARATION FOR GAME WITH RIPON

Red and White Team Will Give Lawrence Hardest Fight of Season

With every man with the exception of Captain Smith in good shape, Lawrence has started preparations for the homecoming game with Ripon here on Saturday, Nov. 12. No game is scheduled for next Saturday so the team will have plenty of time to grind off the rough edges and get the biggest and most important game of the season.

Both teams are undefeated and the winner of the homecoming game will be the champion of the Little Five conference. Beloit and Northwestern were wiped out by Lawrence, and Carroll has lost to Beloit and Ripon. Ripon ran away from Carroll last Saturday, winning by a 60 to 0 score. The Ripon team uncovered an aerial attack which Carroll could not solve and touchdowns followed each other in dazzling rapidity. Gustin and Schneider were the big cogs in the Ripon offense.

Beloit made a startling comeback after its defeat by Lawrence, winning from Knox college last Saturday. Beloit has been playing an in and out game all season. First it walloped Northwestern of Evanston, then was held to a tie by Northwestern of Watertown, fell before Lawrence and turned around and took a fall out of Knox. What kind of a team have they got down in Beloit, anyhow?

LEONARD TO GET IN RING NEXT MONTH

New York—Benny Leonard has emerged from his cell of silence and solitude and has let loose yells of defiance. He is getting ready to fight and probably will be seen in action the early part of next month.

His return will take place in Philadelphia against the best obtainable. Leonard is in the peculiar position of being so good that he has no real rivals. Nevertheless, he must give them all a chance. As to his victim, that will be announced later.

With that fight and a few more under his belt, Leonard will be willing to step around here. His presence will depend upon the liberality of the promoters. As he and a good opponent would bring in over $100,000, Leonard naturally would demand a fair sum. That ridiculous rule of the commission calling for 50 per cent to go to the man bout would have to be overlooked.

Sport Views And News

The football fans in this neck of the woods are still talking about the Packer-Rock Island game. Sooner or later the Green Bay squad would be in for a whipping on their own field. It was the first time in four years.

Games called off-wet grounds. Sounds like baseball, doesn't it but it was football. All the professional contests in Chicago were postponed on account of weather conditions. Of course, the teams could have battled from the returns at the gate probably wouldn't have paid the mascot's salary. This is just the difference between collegiate and the "pro" game.

It begins to look as if Tad Jones is going to bring the Yale bulldog out of the football ruck this year. The big blue team has swept everything before it this season and, comparing scores, the size up much stronger than either Yale or Princeton. But old Eli isn't alone in its glory. Cornell has a squad that is stepping along lively and in all their contests this year the Ithaca have piled up mountain sized scores. Take for instance last Saturday: Cornell 59 Dartmouth 7.

Wisconsin will be idle this week end but the Badger eleven won't waste any time getting in shape for the Michigan game, Nov. 12 and the Chicago conflict a week later. The poor showing made by Iowa in the Purdue game makes the Cardinal team look like Big Ten champs.

Twins Keep 'Em Guessing

Brunswick, Me.—The Bowdoin College football team has found a synonym for confusion. It is Hildreth.

In the ordinary course of events confusion is to be avoided, but in the case of the said Bowdoin football team it is a thing to be courted and prized. For to confuse the enemy on the gridiron is the sesame to victory.

The Hildreth brothers, Charles and Horace, being twins—and very unusual twins, at that—confuse the enemy. Therefore, they are to be courted and prized as aforesaid—and they are.

SPECTATORS SLUG HARVARD PLAYERS

Rowdism Very Evident After Centre College Whips Eastern School

Cambridge, Mass.—Hostility against the Harvard football team in its own stadium, marked by booing and cat-calls in early games and by assault on Crimson players as they were leaving the field last Saturday, has caused the graduate athletic authorities to decide on a new plan of ticket distribution. It was announced on Monday.

Hereafter season tickets will be sold through Harvard graduates only. Admission tickets, however, will be sold for preliminary games as heretofore.

Incidents in the Harvard cheering section, where several groups came to blows during Saturday's game, have indicated need for a new method of university ticket distribution also, it was said. The fights were found to be between Harvard undergraduates and graduates of other colleges talking post graduate work at Harvard, according to official information.

As a result it is planned to admit to the Crimson cheering section only undergraduates and the tickets now issued to all students at the university will be distinguished by color so students at the graduate schools will be seated elsewhere.

WANT HAPSBURGS TO GIVE UP RIGHTS

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris.—The allies have decided to demand that the entire Hapsburg family relinquish its claims to the Hungarian throne. It was learned here Monday afternoon.

This decision followed reported dispatch to Budapest of an ultimatum requiring former Emperor Karl, whose most recent attempt to regain the throne failed, to sign a permanent abdication.

HITTING INFELDERS SCARCE IN MAJORS

Brooklyn.—The woods seem to be full of outfielding prospects, and most of the major league teams already have plenty of suburbanites, but infielders who can hit and field are a mighty scarce article. The Superbas should have six or eight rookies battling for infield jobs next spring, but will not have them, and other clubs will not have them, for two reasons, one being that minor league infielders who look worth a trial in the majors are all-fired scarce. The other reason is that those who do look as if they might have the best chances to land are already booked by the New York Yankees and one or two other clubs which have been flooding the minors with money for players.

Mrs. Henry Heger has returned from Marquette, Mich., where she spent two weeks with Mr. Heger.

The boys in question play the end positions on the Bowdoin eleven. They are identical in appearance and baffle their closest friends in the latters' efforts to tell them apart. Therefore, it is not unusual that they should baffle the opposing team.

A series of brilliant end plays with their accompanying shifts, feints and deceptions with the Hildreth boys playing the major roles is destined to bamboozle the craftiest of opponents.

In the Williams game, which ended in a scoreless tie, this fact was amply demonstrated. In that game, one (no one knows which) played left end, the other, right end—or it may have been the other who played left. At any rate, the Hildreth boys played the end positions.

In the shift plays, the Williams line was kept in a state of puzzlement as to just who was shifting and where he was shifting to.

The Bowdoin football team has begun what gives promise of becoming a successful season. Whether or not its success thus far is due purely to the legedmain practiced by the Hildreth boys is a question which might be open to dispute, but in the three games it has played thus far, it has won two, the other ending in a scoreless tie.

Notwithstanding their great similarity, however, it sometimes is easier to tell the Hildreth boys apart on the football field than it is in street dress. When playing football, one or the other may get a black eye which adequately distinguishes them apart, or one's hair might become somewhat more rumpled than the other's, or a smooch of mud on ones cheek might be the tell-tale mark.

Despite the fact that they have been playing for more than a month, their teammates are unable to tell them apart and know each only by the surnames, Hildreth.

Rumors Start Easily When Managers Meet

New York.—A very light breeze suffices to start the wings of the baseball rumor mill to grinding these days in the interim between the close of the diamond season and the advent of the legislative councils of the leagues. A minute's conversation between two notables, a glum look on the face of one manager and a smile on the features of another, and, lo, great deals and changes are in the air.

A short chat in which Messrs. Huston and Gleason were the only participants the other day flooded the intangible air with reports just as intangible as the air itself. Harry Hooper was to join the Yankees, Eddie Collins was to come to New York in exchange for a fortune in players and cash, and would manage the local American League club next season. Bob Falk was to doff the white hose of Chicago, wearing which fame has come to him, and don a Manhattan uniform. Kid Gleason himself was to drop the wheel of the White Sox craft and pilot the Yankees in place of Miller Huggans.

Having thus switched from the Lake Shore to the Harlem river everything of value possessed by the Chicago American leaguers, save a couple of pitchers and a catcher, the committee of modern fables paused for breath. If Col. Huston and the Chicago Kid had realized what they were starting by merely grasping hands and exchanging greetings they would have stood on opposite sides of Forty-second street and shouted "hullo," at each other above the din of the intervening traffic.

KAUKAUNA EAGER FOR BATTLE HERE

Electric City Team Will Fight Highs to Last Minute Next Saturday

Appleton high school football team is not looking for an easy win over Kaukauna on Lawrence field next Saturday afternoon. The Electric City team has been playing good football this season and will come up here determined to fight until the last whistle blows. Nothing would please Kaukauna more than to trim the big school here.

Coch Vincent's men are in pretty good condition following their easy win over Waupun last week. Brices probably will be able to play the entire game if he is needed. It is possible, however, that the coach will keep him out in order to have them rested for the game at Oshkosh on Armistice day, Nov. 11.

LITTLETON LOSES TO MIKE GIBBONS

Phantom Mike is Floored Twice But Wins Referee's Decision

New Orleans, La.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul was given the decision over Happy Littleton of New Orleans in a fifteen round boxing bout here Monday night. Gibbons was said to have clearly the better of the fight on points, although he was knocked down twice and toward the close was booed and hissed by the crowd.

Gibbons weighed 160½ pounds and Littleton 160 pounds. In the first round Gibbons was floored and took a count of nine. He was knocked down again in the twelfth, putting in a claim of foul, which was disallowed. In the opinion of local sport writers Littleton had the better of the infighting. The bout was marred by constant wrangling over technicalities.

HARVARD WANTS ANOTHER CRACK AT CENTRE TEAM

By United Press Leased Wire
Cambridge, Mass.—Harvard has invited Centre college to return next fall. The Saturday two weeks before the Princeton game, which Penn State occupied this year, is being held open for the southern conquerors of the Crimson.

Mrs. Augusta Manthey of 653 Springst., is spending two weeks at Wisconsin Rapids.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain out part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular or scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

MARINETTE WANTS TO GET INTO NEW BASKET LEAGUE

New London Also is Eager to Enter Basketball Team in New Wheel

Definite announcement whether Oshkosh, New London or Marinette will be given a berth in the newly organized Central Wisconsin Basketball league will be made within a few days. It is probable that a meeting of team owners and managers in Fond du Lac, Green Bay, Neenah, Appleton and Two Rivers will be held here Sunday to discuss this matter.

New London is eager to get into the league and has started to form a team. Adequate support is promised and all kinds of efforts are being made to get in. Marinette also is said to be desirous of getting in the wheel but the distance from some of the other cities is regarded as something of a drawback.

Manager George Dame of the local team still is lining up men and expects to have an exceedingly large squad when the first practice is held the latter part of November. It is probable the first games will be played the first week in December.

The schedule is being prepared this week and will be ready for announcement in a few days.

Anthony Ulrich, Martin Kuehn, William Prink, John Herli and Charles Emden autoed to Green Bay, Sunday to attend the Packer-Rock Island football game.

MANY CELLARS IN APPLETON STOCKED WITH GREEN SPUDS

Nearly 75 Per Cent of Early Potato Crop is Green, Buyers Declare

Appleton people who loaded up their cellars with potatoes in order to take advantage of the early season prices may find themselves out of luck in a few weeks. Experienced potato buyers declare that 75 per cent of the potatoes marketed early in the fall are green and will rot in the bins in from four to six weeks.

Although the tubers have a healthy appearance early purchasers will find many rotten potatoes in their bins.

because the vines were nipped by the frost which prevented the crop from ripening. It is said the late crop will be in better condition.

Persons who have ears or other means of conveying potatoes directly from the farms went right to the source of the supply and bought enough for the winter months. Some farmers disposed of their whole crop in that manner. Growers would leave their potatoes in pits in the fields and townspeople would load them on their cars. Farmers received prices ranging from $1 to $1.20 per bushel. At the present time most of the people who had means of transportation have their winter supply of potatoes stored in their cellars.

Farmers now are bringing their potatoes into town and selling either to the wholesaler or peddling their crop directly to the consumer. Prices of potatoes purchased from wagons range from $1.30 to $1.45 bushel.

"We have only purchased enough potatoes to supply our own trade," said William Schneider, potato buyer for the Equity exchange, "and have not bought any for shipment as yet. I find that about 50 per cent of the potatoes brought here are green. But it seems that the quality is getting better with each load. Farmers are bringing in greater quantities at the present time."

I left my entire crop of 500 bushels in pits and townspeople would drive out with their cars or trucks and buy them right out of the fields," declared Julius Seifert, a Greenville farmer. "The price averaged $1.25 per bushel. Practically all of the farmers in and around Greenville disposed of their crops in a similar manner. Buyers came from as far as Oshkosh and Fond du Lac to buy potatoes from the fields."

"This was a very poor reason for the tuber crop and more than 75 per cent of the potatoes on the local markets are green," said Joseph Hodgins, city sealer of weights and measures. "Persons who have fully matured potatoes in their cellars are fortunate because the green tubers will rot in the bins in from four to six weeks. I would not be surprised to hear that some of the early crop now is rotting in the bins. I predict that the late crops will be of a better quality and also a higher price will be demanded."

Britain's Navy is a Direct Cost to You

The French standing army of 750,000 is a direct liability to every American, too.

While the powers feel forced to keep expensive armaments they cannot pay their debts to America.

European business is deprived of the great sums spent on armies and navies.

The European market for American exports remains dormant while this situation exists.

Every nation must be assured of lasting peace. Armaments sufficient to wage aggressive war must be discarded. Otherwise prosperity will perish. This is the conclusion of a committee of leading American business men who made a careful first hand study of the situation for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

All Neighbors Now

Editor of Post-Crescent—I want to thank you for the out-spoken and truth-speaking editorial in today's paper regarding what I also four of our country's mistakes in not getting together with the other nations in some sort of League at the close of the great war. Many of our people and too many of our public journals have urged that we must keep out of such entanglements. But all the time and all the same we are entangled; we are all neighbors now and now one can help it. We must accept it. Yours most truly,

E. C. BARNARD.

...put them Saturday before she went away. She picked them up off the floor.

T. F. G.—If I move to Alabama or North Florida will I do well in business or will I have to move back?

Ans.—You will not do well in either place, although southern Florida would mean fairly good success for you, however, I don't see that you would do well there this coming year.

L. W.—Last year I lost $5 from dresser, who took it? Will I sell my property soon and will I get over my operation on tonsils allright?

Ans.—I never mention names of anyone who commit a criminal act although the party whom you suspected got the money. Do not sell your property at this time if you would ask

M. D.—Will I regain my money in shares? Shall I sign the will?

Ans.—Don't sign the will for a little while, you will understand the reason soon, and I regret that I don't see you getting any money out of your shares in the near future. Hold onto them however.

L. W.—Will I go with many fellows within the next year and also tell me whom they are. Will I have many good times?

Ans.—You will go with altogether too many for your own good. You need not be prudish, but I earnestly advise you to use care and consideration in picking your boy friends, and

L. W.—Will I be successful in my present position?

Ans.—Yes, and by constant application to your work I see advancement and better pay for you.

J. M. J.—I have a ten acre oil lease. Will I get a chance to sell it?

Ans.—You will have the opportunity later on, but it doesn't appear to me as being within six months.

R. B.—Will I ever be better situated than I am now?

Ans.—Yes, next year appears brighter for you than either of the past two years.

H. R. A.—Where is my head purse? Is it lost or stolen?

H. M. W.—Will my husband's business put them Saturday before she went away. She picked them up off the floor.

M. K.—How soon will I get a business position?

Ans.—I see you getting a position shortly after you leave business college, it will not be entirely suitable and you will make a change to a position where you will do quite well.

C. R. L.—Where was my husband last Wednesday and Thursday? Is there another woman?

Ans.—There is another woman but she is too well known locally to mention her name in the paper. Bring your question to the ladies matinee Friday afternoon if you wish a complete answer.

C. A. W.—Has the twenty dollar bill been found that my friend lost a week ago last Thursday night?

Ans.—Yes, it was found shortly after, but as the bill has changed hands several times since then I am unable to trace it, and can only tell you it will not be recovered.

THE STAGE

Uncle Tom's Cabin

William H. Kibbler's grand, superb, spectacular revival of that everlasting old play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which will be seen at the Appleton Theatre on Thursday, Nov. 3, promises to be a theatrical treat in every sense of the word. The company this year is bigger, better and brighter than ever, among which are negroes from the sunny South, who have been especially engaged to fill out the many pretty pictures of the play and present their famous songs, dances and plantation "Shines." So thorough and pleasing has been the production under the management of Mr. William H. Kibbler, that the press, public and audience have unanimously sung its praise, and thousands upon thousands have attended.

HARTHILL PRAISED FOR HIS LECTURES

Some able recommendations have been given Lewis Harthill, former chief of police of Minneapolis, who speaks in Lawrence Memorial chapel at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, under auspices of Appleton Trades and Labor council. His advice on prevention of crime among children and suggestions for dealing with criminals have elicited praise from a number of sources.

B. B. Jackson, Minneapolis, superintendent of the board of education, says Mr. Harthill has taken away from the school children the idea that the policeman is an "animal" to be feared.

The Rev. William P. Look, Methodist pastor in Fond du Lac, describes his appeal as one to all interested to work for a clean community. Mr. Harthill was a safe and satisfactory man before an audience.

Mayor Arthur Bentley, LaCrosse, expresses his hearty appreciation of the former chief's work and says he is instructive and entertaining as well. Praise from many middle western states has followed the speaker.

Mr. Harthill tells of the causes and effects of vice and crime and who profits and pays; explains criminal identification systems; life of dope fiends and opium smokers and their cure; and goes into detail concerning crimes against children.

ALLEGED AUTO THIEVES HELD IN JAIL HERE

John Kennedy, John Hart and John Novak, alleged Chicago automobile thieves, picked up at Appleton Junction by police officers Friday night, were taken into municipal court Monday morning on a charge of

STATE LEADS U. S. IN T. B. TESTING

Wisconsin Now Has Largest Number of Tuberculosis-Free Herds in Country

Special to Post-Crescent
Madison—The quarter ending Sept. 30 marks an epoch in the tuberculosis eradication work in Wisconsin. Wisconsin now occupies first place in the United States in the number of tuberculosis-free accredited herds. This fact is of inestimable value to the livestock interests of the state, says Dr. James Healy in charge of this work for the state department of agriculture. It is expected that Wisconsin will continue to lead in this constructive work. During the summer months the demand for service by the breeders was constant and the present force was inadequate to meet the demand. The stabling of livestock incident to the advent of cold weather has greatly increased the demand for tuberculin testing. 1,000 applications on file asking for service which the department is unable to render to breeders.

This year marks Wisconsin's largest increase in the number of tuberculosis-free accredited herds and incidentally the largest volume of work performed during any quarter. Wisconsin led the United States at the end of this quarter with

	Herds	Cattle
Fully accredited	1,309	29,061
Once tested free	1,585	35,004
Under supervision	3,224	73,755

BRITAIN MUST FACE SHOWDOWN AT MEET

 less. Indeed, lest it be supposed that Great Britain would be obligated to help Japan in case of war between America and Japan, a provision was incorporated saying that England was not required to fight alongside of Japan if the latter country made war against any country with which Great Britain had an arbitration treaty. In the early days this exception was considered a sop to American opinion and nobody in official circles had any fears of the Anglo-Japanese naval combination against America in war-time. But since the original Anglo-Japanese alliance was written in 1901, many things have occurred, notably the European war. Various parts of the British Empire which had heretofore allowed London a free hand in making foreign policy for the whole empire awoke to a national consciousness.

Business Men Object
 The words of the Anglo-Japanese alliance were vague and general, yet the interpretation placed on that alliance by the Japanese military leaders and statesmen became far from vague. The truth is the British businessmen of China in a formal statement expressed exactly the viewpoint of America when they urged that the Anglo-Japanese alliance be not renewed because it had only served as a menacing stimulant to Japanese political and commercial aggression in the Pacific and Far East.

Thus we have had British citizens in the Far East against the Anglo-Japanese alliance, an Australian premier expressing lukewarm support for it while his people were openly antagonistic, Canada boldly proclaiming her hostility to the idea and the British government in London assuring Japan on the one hand of her faith in the alliance and America on the other her permanent friendship. The showdown has become inevitable.

RED CROSS MUST KEEP UP WORK BUT IT MUST HAVE HELP

Charter from Government Compels Organization to "Carry On"

One of the most frequent questions asked leaders in the Red Cross, which will open its annual roll call Nov. 11 is, "Why is the Red Cross still going on? Why doesn't it cease its work now that the war is ended? Is there any justification for these annual campaigns and the expenditure of money?" To this query the Red Cross makes the following answer: "The Red Cross is continuing its work because it cannot stop. The American Red Cross is a chartered agent of the United States Government, its duties and responsibilities outlined in a national charter, and it is responsible to the war department and congress. It would be just as impossible for the Red Cross to cease its operations as it would be for any other department of the government to cease to exist. Under the terms of the charter there are three things the Red Cross must do. They are these: "1. To furnish volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of armies in time of war.

"2. To act in matters of voluntary relief and in accord with the military and naval authorities as a medium of communication between the people of the United States of America and their Army and Navy.

"3. To continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the suffering caused by pestilence, disease, famine, fire, floods, and other great national calamities and to devise and carry on measures for preventing the same."

The Red Cross in spite of its governmental connection, is in a critical position today, according to Appleton leaders. It must continue its work. It cannot do so without the cooperation of the people whom it serves. The work carried on in Appleton, including classes in home nursing, aid and service for former service men, health classes, junior Red Cross and garment making must continue and the only way it can continue is by means of annual memberships. That is why the annual roll call or membership campaign is to be held.
